AG Tag Program supports local 4-H and FFA programs

Agriculture Commissioner Ryan Quarles visited the Bracken County Clerk's office Monday, March 5th, as part of his 2018 Ag Tag Campaign. While there, he met and talked with members of the Bracken County High School Future Farmers of America (FFA) and advisor Sarah Rice as well as members of the Bracken County 4-H and County 4-H Agent Molly Jordan. In speaking with the students, he was pleasantly suprised to learn most members in attendance where traditional farm children and most raised and showed goats as well as other animals. He spoke with the students about the FFA programs influx of non-traditional agriculture students, now encompassing students who have no farming background.

Kentucky motorists who buy or renew farm vehicle license plates, or "ag tags," may make a voluntary donation of up to $10 to the Ag Tag Fund. Donations to the Ag Tag Fund are divided equally among Kentucky 4-H, Kentucky FFA, and the Kentucky Department of Agriculture for youth development and promotional programs. Half of the 4-H and FFA funds go back to the county where the tag is purchased to support local programming, awards, and scholarships.

Taylor Elementary School held a "Dollar War" Drive from February 13th through February 19th. After 4 days the students and staff had raised just over $1,000. Over the weekend more money was collected in hopes of raising $1,500 to donate to the Mains-Quinlin VFW Post 9535 in Augusta to help with much needed repairs and operational funds. When the last dollar was collected and counted, Taylor Elementary School was proud to announce they had surpassed their $1,500 goal and had actually collected over $2,000.

Mrs. Brumley, a vocal supporter of our local veterans and veteran causes, has helped to introduce not only her students, but all of Taylor's students to the importance of honoring and supporting our Bracken County Veterans for the many sacrifices they made during their service to our country and for fighting for us. She was very pleased with the support shown by students, their parents, and staff members during the "Dollar War" Drive. With the anticipated reward of a pizza party for the winning homeroom, students "brought their dollars in hand over foot", according to Mrs. Brumley. The students in Mrs. Wells Second grade class were the lucky winners.

Kevin Stears
candidate for Bracken County Sheriff

Several people have asked about my knowledge of becoming your next sheriff. I have been self-employed for 20 years with my construction business and trucking company and have managed finances, employees, and paper work successfully. So, I feel qualified for the business part of the job. As far as the other areas, I will take any and all training needed to be successful as your next sheriff.

Another frequently asked question is if I plan to replace our current deputies. I feel that Bracken County has good deputies and look forward to working with them if elected.

I have heard multiple concerns about the availability of the current sheriff. I agree someone should be available to all Bracken County residents anytime a problem occurs. With an increase of $408,000 to the sheriff budget in the last eight years, you should never be told no one is on duty. If a deputy is not available then it is the sheriff's responsibility to be there when you need them not when it's convenient.

I promise to be your sheriff 24 hrs. a day, 7 days per week. I would greatly appreciate your support in bringing in a new experience to our county. Please vote May 22nd, your vote counts!

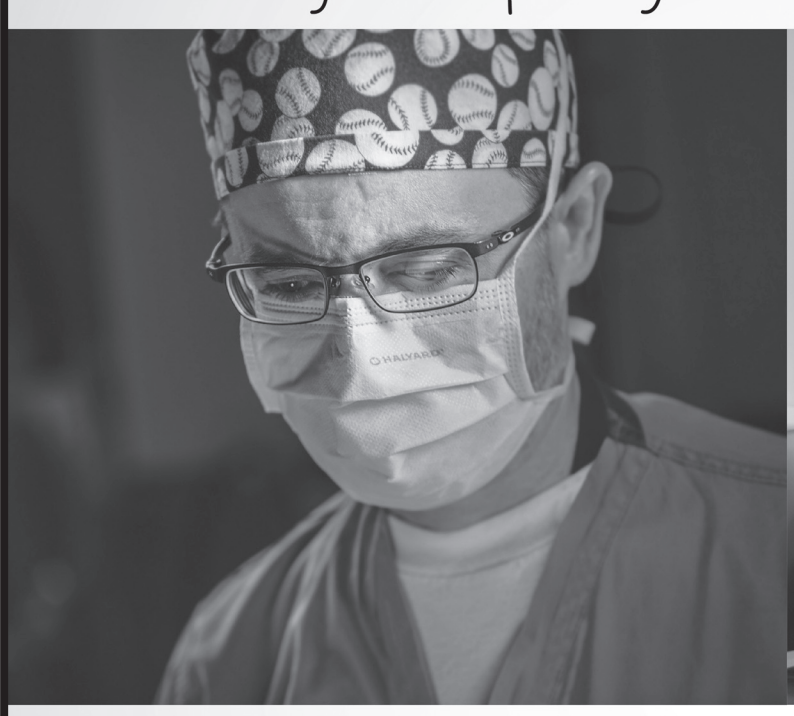
To Dr. Brady Reid, it's just another day in the operating room.



But, to Dr. Gainey, it's a trusted surgeon for his patients.

Primary care physicians take on the important task of ensuring their patients fall into the hands of a highly competent surgeon, when surgery becomes necessary. At Harrison Memorial Hospital, Dr. Shane Gainey finds that challenge a little less daunting knowing he can turn to HMH surgeon Brady Reid, M.D.

"My patients trust and depend on me to make the right choice for their care. Sure, I could send them to Lexington for surgery. But, I don't have to do that, because I have complete confidence in Dr. Reid. The skill is there. The collaboration is there. And, life after surgery becomes much more convenient for my patients."

GREETINGS FROM ST. JAMES
by Caroline Jefferson

On Sunday, March 11, we set our clocks forward one hour to switch to Daylight Saving Time, but we will also be observing the Fourth Sunday of Lent! How quickly time goes!

Lenten Sundays are halfway over and we may still be struggling to even begin our Lenten resolution(s)! It's not too late for a "do-over" because it is never too late to put into practice the three Lenten pillars of fasting, prayer and almsgiving! We don't have to give up the same thing every day, but consciously make an effort to give up something such as minutes spent looking on Facebook, or maybe a favorite drink or food item, and use the time saved to pray, or the money saved to donate to church or a favorite charity! By placing ourselves in the presence of God through our sacrifices, we can more effectively reflect on the sacrifices His Son made as He suffered His passion and death!

Sunday is the best day of the week. We meet in the house of the Lord and worship Him.

We are studying the Book of Titus. Scott Phillips was our teacher. We are told to stand firm in our beliefs. God saved us by His grace. Do good deeds.

We had a special by Jerry Zeigler. He sang "Holy Ground". Great job! We appreciate all he does for ACC. We also appreciate Lisa Gibson for her beautiful piano playing. She will be playing for the angels in Heaven one day.

We were sorry to hear about the death of James Turner and Bobby Wagel. They both were in the class of 1958.

We are now using the van to pick up people who want to come to church. Call Dorothy Heller 883-3390.

Opening prayer was by Jerry Zeigler. Closing prayer was by Owen Shackelford. We appreciate Bruce for his very good sermon.

We pray for the sick, the ones who have lost loved ones, our service men & women.

Don't forget Wed. Night Refresh at 7 p.m.

WILLOW BAPTIST
by Vanessa Ferrell

Willow Baptist is blessed to hear the happy laughter of the children in our church, and we are focused on the needs of families with children. Sunday School is at 10:00, when children through adults gather in small groups to study the Bible and make friends. Our church also offers a special Children's Church during the regular service at 11:00. Children are able to learn about Jesus at their age level.

On Wednesday evenings at 6:30 we also have children's activities, while adults can continue a study of the book "Autopsy of a Dead Church". All those who are looking for a church home are welcome to visit Willow Baptist.

We are looking forward with expectation for Easter. An Easter Egg Hunt for all children in the area is scheduled at noon on Sat., March 24, a choir is practicing special music which we will hear on March 25 (Palm Sunday), and on April 1 we will joyfully celebrate Easter, when we remember the resurrection of our Savior. Visitors are warmly invited to attend all these events.

This Sunday, Pastor Keeton preached on "The Importance of Children in the Church", Matthew 19:13-15. Did you know that 80% of those who accept Jesus as their Savior do so during the ages of 4-14? This is a vital window to reach children for Christ, and what they learn in church will last throughout their lives.

Remember to set your clocks ahead one hour this Saturday night, and join us for all our activities at Willow Baptist!

Chatham Christian Church Church Mouse

On this Sun., Mar. 4th, we welcome all those that come to worship and praise God.

Celebrating a birthday is Brittney Reckers. We love you and hope you had a BLESSED day.

Congratulations to Dan & Lisa Smith on the birth of their beautiful daughter. Annabelle Rose was born Mon., Mar. 5 and is being welcomed by her 2 handsome older brothers. She has a head full of hair and weighed 8 lbs. 10 oz. She is 20 inches long. May God bless this wonderful family. We know that Annabelle will be spoiled by Lisa's mom & dad, Ron & Annette Harrison! Dan's family too!

Ron Foley brought the SS lesson on "We Won't Break". Matthew 6:25-34. We will face overwhelming troubles and uncertainties in this life, but when we trust God, we won't break.

Appreciation to Rita Clos for playing the piano today.

Bro. Jackie's message was "The Triumphal Entry". Luke 19:28-40. This tells about when Jesus goes to Jerusalem and gives His disciples instructions. Today, Jesus gives us instructions and we need to follow what He says.

Remember the Food Bank and Backpack Programs and items for the Blessing Box.

Remember in prayer: we were glad to have Debbie McElfresh back with us, Tonya Bice, Margie Burton, Kathy Williams, Bobbi Hargett, Crawford Thornton (ICU with pneumonia), Donald Monson, Margaret Dalip (test), Red Fryman, Delores Perkins, Shirley Young and all those on the prayer list.

Our sympathy to the families of 4 yr. old Ryan Cornett, Jessica Gordley, J.K. Stewart, and Frank Stitt.

COUNTRYSIDE HOMEMAKERS

The Countryside Homemakers enjoyed a delicious Italian dinner at their February 23rd meeting at the Bracken County Extension office. Mary Lou Hickey was the "founder of the feast" and was assisted serving by her daughter Meagan Brannon and granddaughter Emma.

The business meeting was led by President LuAnn Doyle with discussions held on International Night Dinner on Thurs., April 12th, Annual Meeting on Thurs., June 28th and various other upcoming homemaker events and workshops. The club decided to donate cans of fruits and vegetables regularly to the "Blessings Box" placed behind the Brooksville Christian Church. Plans were also made for their contributions of a movie basket, a floral hanging basket, blackberry cake, cookie bags and Mountain Dew to the county homemaker's Spring Quarter Auction coming on Friday, May 4th.

Mareka Scott presented the lesson on Clutter-Free Living. Clutter is all around us and it's a growing problem. A few facts - 80% of what we keep is never used; you can eliminate 40% of housework if you de-clutter; you spend 153 days of your lifetime looking for lost items. One good rule is to throw out one or two old possessions for every new one. Good luck!

Bingo was again the game of the evening. Diana Sharp, Patty Johnson and Kathy Bay were the grand prize winners but all were treated to a colorful kitchen towel to welcome in Spring. Other members present were Faye Chinn, Phyllis Thornbury, Karen Rumford and Janet Meyer.

Help us
COMMEMORATE OUR "OAK" ANNIVERSARY!
In celebration of our 80th anniversary, Fleming-Mason Energy will give away tree seedlings to our members at our Flemingsburg office beginning Monday, March 12.
Members may pick up one free seedling. We will have Eastern redbud, gray dogwood, pin oak and chestnut oak available to choose from.
With each free seedling, Fleming-Mason will give out information on responsible tree planting practices. Before planting, we support the Call Before You Dig (811) initiative. It is also important to consider the full growth potential of any tree when planting. A tree planted in a poor location could affect overhead utility lines and right-of-way.
Stop by during office hours, 7:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. Giveaways will take place on a first-come, first-serve basis until the supply is gone!

FARMERETTES

The monthly meeting of the Farmerettes Club was Tues., Feb. 13 at 2 p.m. in the Extension Office. We had cancelled our regular 2nd Monday of the month due to weather. Six members were present.

Patty Ann Moorhead, VP, presided. Sandra Wood, secretary, read "The Word of Love" for our devotion in honor of Valentine's Day. We answered roll call by telling about a place associated with Abraham Lincoln. Most of us had visited Abraham Lincoln's birthplace in Hodgenville, KY. Marie Courts had a game for us about Mr. Lincoln. Sandra won the prize for the most right answers.

Patty Ann told us the International Meeting will have a dinner and speaker on Cuba on Apr. 12 at 6 p.m. at the Extension Office. Patty Ann gave the lesson "Educate Before You Medicate" and passed out leaflets with info. about drug interactions and what we need to ask our doctors or pharmacists when getting a new prescription filled.

Our hostess, Edith McKenney, had a wonderful lunch for us. We enjoyed chicken salad sandwiches, a hot dip with chips and fruit salad and drinks. Connie Bowling joined us late. We missed several members who were unable to attend. Others present were Sue Baker and Zelda Clos.

Next meeting is at Sandra Wood's home on Mar. 12 at 11:30 a.m. We will have an interesting lesson that day. And maybe the weather will be warmer.

Senior Citizens Happenings

We welcome you to Senior Citizens Happenings. All seniors are welcome and we would love to have you join us and be apart of our family. There are a lot of fun activities planned for the next few months and we will share them with you as plans are finalized.

We are located at 110 Grandview Drive, Brooksville. Our director is Sheila Collins. Phone 606-735-2948 for further info.

Open seating is on Tuesdays & Thursdays. Lunch is served at noon. We have prayer before our meal and always remember those that are sick. The Center opens at 8 a.m. till 4 p.m. You will find euchre being played and bingo starts after lunch. The seniors love to play 4 handed and 6 handed euchre! Bingo winners get to pick out a prize when they win. Some are really nice prizes. So come and enjoy or just sit and have a great time of fellowship with friends.

Tues., Feb. 27 - we welcomed another guest today and hope they will come back. We had a large crowd and everyone was having a great time and that's the way we like it...to see the seniors having a great time of fellowship.

We continue our prayers for Sheila's mom & dad, and her aunt Flossie Hay, Delores Perkins, Kathy Williams, Buff Saunders, Pauline Jefferson, Betty Moore, Tracey and Tommy Wenz, and all those that weren't here. We also keep the flood victims in our prayers.

Thurs., Mar. 1 - we had 24 here today. We were glad to have our guest back today. Mr. Tom...we welcome you to Senior Citizens and we are so glad to have you. Mr. Tom is a busy man. He loves to cook and has his own shop where he makes things and helps others. We also welcomed Diane Smith and she said that she likes to keep busy...boy, Diane you sure came to the right place!

Our sick: Delores Perkins (slowly improving), Kathy Williams, Maxine Cummins, Pauline Jefferson, Betty Moore, Wiley & Jay Jefferson's grandson, Bro. Ron Moser's 2 yr. old granddaughter and may we all just keep them and all the sick in prayer.

Sheila read us a poem about "March".

David Jefferson led us in prayer.

March birthdays: Glenn Littleton will be turning 101, Janet Tucker, and Peggy Tucker. We pray they all have a great day.

Sheila will be leading us this month in "Walking With Ease".

We will be having a guest singer for later this month. Donna Teegarden from the health department will be doing blood pressure checks and we will have our Nutritional Program later this month. On "Good Friday" we will have a brunch starting around 10:30 a.m.

Don't forget to turn your clocks up 1 hour on March 11. It's daylight saving time.

May we, this month, resolve that regardless of the frustrating and mundane duties we may face, we will, with God's help, strive to do them cheerfully as unto the Lord. May we seek to bring some spark of joy and kindness into the life of someone else. May we all just brighten the corner where we are. WHAT A WONDERFUL WORLD THIS WOULD BE!

Augusta Ind. Schools' Family Fun Spring Fling

Mrs. Denham, Reading Intervention Specialist

It's time for our third annual Family Fun Spring Fling night, so make sure to put this on your calendar! This year's Family Fun Spring Fling night will be held on Tuesday, March 20th at the school from 5-7 pm. Families with elementary students attending AIS in grades PS-5th grade are encouraged to attend this fun event! Our event is during the month of Dr. Seuss's birthday, and our event will be one huge party with games, prizes, food and drinks based on his books!

We are planning a night of Dr. Seuss literacy activities that will be fun for all ages. Stations with games and activities centered on reading concepts and Dr. Seuss's books, as well as crafts, iPads, Bingo, book walk, and a photo booth will be available to families. There will be photo opportunities with the Cat in the Hat and Thing 1 and Thing 2. Who knows? There may be other Dr. Seuss characters to show up, as well. Feel free to come dressed as your favorite Dr. Seuss character. We are also very lucky to have the Book Fair during this week, so parents and children will be able to go to the library together to shop for some books for the family!

Trash Talk

by: Mr. Recycle Bin & Ms. Pick-Up Litterbug

Howdy Folks! Spring must be on its way – daffodils are beginning to bloom, maple trees are budding, and Daylight Saving Time begins this coming weekend! Officially and collectively, we, the citizens, are to adjust our clocks to spring forward one hour at 2:00 AM on Sunday, March 11, to usher in 2018 Daylight Saving Time! Officially at our house, the clock hands are moved forward any time that we think of it on Saturday! Benjamin Franklin is credited with the idea of daylight saving time to conserve energy and it became law in 1966 under President Lyndon Johnson. In 2005 President Bush expanded the time frame to begin the second Sunday in March and end on the first Sunday of November. One article we read said that we should begin going to bed perhaps 15 – 20 minutes earlier each night this week to prepare our internal time clocks for the external time change, but it will inevitably take more than that to adjust these two old(er) bodies! Like it or not, daylight saving time is upon us and the only action we can take is to adjust!

Recently we questioned the action of someone whom, we assume, was trying to do us a favor. Last Wednesday we checked the trailer behind the Brooksville Fire Department and discovered several larger pieces of Styrofoam and a laundry basket. We removed these items and set them outside the trailer because we were headed to the Recycling Center with the intention of picking these items up on our return. Surprisingly when we stopped to retrieve the items they were not where we had left them, but a quick check found them back in the trailer! Any type of Styrofoam cannot be recycled! It doesn't make any difference whether it is molded around the product to protect it during shipping, in the shape of packing peanuts or sheeting material, it is not recyclable and does not belong in the recycling trailers. While some areas in this country and even the world have the capabilities and means to recycle this product, in our small area, it has to go to the trash for Rumpke pickup.

Also recently we have had a couple of calls requesting garbage pickup – one to begin service and the other to state that their garbage had not been picked up. These are both important situations to be addressed but the only assistance we can give is the phone number for Rumpke which is 877-786-7537. Another way this number is advertised is 1-877-RUMPKE7 which is helpful if you are good at memorization!

As a final reminder today – the recycling trailers are not Rumpke Dumpsters and trash should never be placed in them! When we checked the trailer at the Augusta Ball Park last Thursday we were quite dismayed to find that someone had dumped numerous and various types of containers of flood damaged VHS tapes, along with other water soaked and mud coated garbage! We retrieved nearly a truck bed full of this type of trash and as we have stated many times, these heavy items go into the trailers much easier than they come out! It is a struggle to get hands on, much less remove bulky garbage bags or random containers filled with (in this instance) VHS tapes. Please contact Rumpke at the above number to establish curbside garbage service – just roll the garbage can to the road! Sincere appreciation is extended to those practicing good stewardship by RECYCLING, REUSING and REDUCING to keep God's earth clean, green and beautiful! Be seein' you – Bin & Bug.

Kindergarten Registration Thurs., April 12th

Kindergarten registration will be on Thursday, April 12 from 6-8 p.m. in the library at Taylor Elementary. There has been a change in the birthdate eligibility cutoff for Kentucky kindergarteners which took effect in the 2017-2018 school year. The new date is August 1. Any child who turns 5 years old on or before August 1 can enroll in Taylor Elementary' s full day Kindergarten program.

Bracken County Board of Education has a policy that allows parents to request early entrance into Kindergarten. To qualify for early entrance, children must exhibit high levels of academic, social, and emotional aptitude, based on assessments. Parents may petition for early enrollment by picking up an early enrollment packet the night of Kindergarten registration, or at the office at Taylor Elementary. If you have any questions, call Mindy at 606-735-2169, or email at mindy.hamilton@bracken.kyschools.us.

Hamilton, Riggs advancing to SkillsUSA State Level Competition

Mason County Area Technology Center students competed in the SkillsUSA Regional Competition held at Montgomery County High School on Sat., February 24. Three students from the Mason County ATC will be representing the region at the state competition. Adam Wallingford, welding instructor and SkillsUSA advisor stated, "SKillsUSA is important because it emphasizes specific trade skills and empowers students to be leaders. We are proud that our students competed at a high level and advanced to the state competition."

Clint Lowe, senior at Mason County High School placed first in the regional SkillsUSA Welding Sculpture competition. Clint stated, "My sculpture represents a John Deere 4430 plowing ground. I have been around tractors my entire life and felt it represented me well." Clint began working on his sculpture in early January starting with a piece of square tubing and different shapes and sizes of metal that Clint used to create his masterpiece. Clint was judged on his selection of materials, his creativity and how he was able to weld the sculpture into one continual piece. In addition to winning the region, Clint received a $1250 scholarship to attend Kentucky Welding Institute (KWI) in Flemingsburg.

Jamie Riggs, Bracken County senior and Mason County ATC welding student, placed first in the SkillsUSA T-shirt Design Competition. "I had to create a t-shirt design that focuses on what it means to be involved in SkillsJSA," stated Jamie Riggs. For the competition, students had to meet several requirements such as the design could not exceed four colors, SkillsUSA had to be on the shirt, along with the year and a picture that depicted the state. In addition, Jamie was required to do a presentation to a panel about his idea and explain how it represents the leadership and competition of SkillsUSA. Riggs stated, "My theme for the shirt was the benefits of having skills. You can get a job without SkillsUSA, but you don't have the leadership qualities that you learn from skills."

Seth Hamilton, senior Bracken County High School placed first at the regional SkillsUSA

competition in Automtive Service Technican, almost attaining a perfect score. Seth had to remove, inspect and replace brakes; conduct an electrical test on a vehicle with a multimeter; identify parts on a vehicle; pull codes with a scan tool; and conduct an alternator and battery test. Seth Hamilton stated, "The electrical test presented the greatest challenge. I had to make sure that I was percise." Seth will compete on the state level in April. "The competition will be greater and the skill level will be a lot harder. There will be the best from each region at the state," stated Hamilton.

The three students will compete on April 11 – 14 in Louisville. "Advancing to the state compeition is the career and technical state tournment. I am looking forward them to displaying their skills on the state level," stated Adam Wallingford, SkillsUSA advisor.

Mud is a problem for cattle; it slows and complicates feeding, exposes herds to greater pathogen loads, and can increase their energy requirements if it mats down their hair coat. Mud increases the probability of nutrient runoff, impairing the environment and losing fertilizer nutrients that are needed on the farm.

The infrastructure solution. Adding concrete feeding structures and other all-weather surfaces can minimize or reduce mud. Installing heavy use pads using filter fabric, rock and limestone is also very helpful. Disadvantages include cost, difficulty in having enough area for larger groups of livestock, and the need to scrape and handle manure that has to be reapplied to fields. To get more information on these options, google 'UKY all weather surfaces.'

The feeding solution. Feeding methods can be altered to reduce mud. Unrolling round bales moves the hoof traffic around the farm, but generates more waste than other methods. Bale unrolling will spread manure and urine over a larger area than with ring feeders or feeding structures.

A feeding practice that is gaining in utility for some Kentucky producers is bale grazing. This feeding method places bales across the feeding area in late fall. Temporary fencing is placed around these bales to allow allocating this forage to livestock as needed over the winter.

The forage solution. Maintaining heathy vigorous stands of grasses like Kentucky bluegrass and tall fescue for overwintering areas will help. Bluegrass is a sod-former and the foliage of tall fescue resists the weathering that happens with orchardgrass. Grass stands managed for well-managed residual heights will have greater root volume in the soil to support hoof traffic.

The re-seeding method. Farm layout and management needs often mean some fields are torn up every year. To bring these fields back into some level of production, consider reseeding with temporary forages.

Perennial and annual ryegrass provide short term options that are quick to establish and relatively inexpensive. Annual ryegrass will establish very quickly and is inexpensive; however annual ryegrass will only survive to mid-summer. Perennial ryegrass survives two seasons but is a bit more costly and slightly slower to establish. Unlike other cool season grasses, ryegrasses can be broadcast on top of the ground and will still germinate and take root if rains are consistent. Even when overseeding ryegrass, dragging is recommended. Use 25 to 30 pounds of seed per acre at a minimum.Crabgrass can be seeded with ryegrass or alone if the seed will be lightly covered after broadcasting. These seed will lie dormant in the soil until the warmer weather of late spring. Crabgrass will provide grazing late into the summer, given good emergence and strategic applications of nitrogen.

Calling these 'solutions' is a bit of an overstatement. But infrastructure, feeding methods, forage management and even reseeding are tools to help deal with mud.

This Week at the State Capitol

The Kentucky General Assembly's 2018 session passed a couple big milestones this week as the deadline to introduce new bills arrived in the House on Tuesday and in the Senate on Thursday.

Capitol observers now have a complete view of the subjects that will be considered this year on major issues like education, taxes, and health care as well as on lesser-known matters like shark fins, nail salons, and elk.

The big issue of the week, though, was the passage of a state budget plan and a revenue-generating measure in the state House of Representatives.

The budget bill, House Bill 200, restores many of the programs that were cut in the governor's original budget proposal while also providing more funding for education and public safety. The plan would protect school transportation funding and boost per-pupil school funding to the highest level ever. It also provides funds to help the state police modernize an aging fleet with 260 new cruisers and 800 new rifles.

The plan would also increase funding for the Kentucky Retirement Systems by $774.5 million and the Kentucky Teachers' Retirement System by 89.1 million to meet the full actuarial require contribution for public pensions.

Still, spending cuts for many parts of state government remain in the spending plan. Many state agencies would see 6.25 percent cuts, the same amount as proposed in the governor's original spending plan.

House Bill 200 passed the House on Wednesday on a 76-15 vote.

The revenue bill, House Bill 366, passed the House the same day on a 68-25 vote. Under this measure, taxes on packs of cigarettes would go up 50 cents and prescription opioids would be taxed at 25 cents per dose at the distribution level, which means the increase is intended to be paid for by manufacturers and not passed on to consumers.

Many other bills also took steps forward in the General Assembly this week, including measures on:

Truck Platooning. Senate Bill 116 would allow truck platooning. The term refers to two or more individual commercial vehicles traveling together in sync with electronically coordinated speeds through wireless communication. With safety and fuel-efficiency benefits for drivers, SB 116 passed the Senate unanimously and now goes to the House for consideration.

Adoption and Foster Care. House Bill 1 would allow the state to petition for involuntary termination of parental rights of a mother who won't seek drug treatment within 60 days after giving birth to a drug-addicted baby. The measure would also expand the definition of a "blood relative" for child placement and ensure that dependent, neglected or abused children placed in foster care are reunified with family or placed in a new permanent home in a timely manner. HB 1 passed the House by a vote of 94-1 this week and now goes to the Senate.

Breweries. House Bill 136 would increase the cap on packaged beer to individual customers for Kentucky's craft brewers. It would also allow craft brewers to start sending their wholesale tax payments directly to Kentucky Department of Revenue. The bill received final passage this week and is headed to the governor's desk.

Peer-Reviews. House Bill 4 would exempt doctors' reviews of other doctors in medical-malpractice lawsuits from discovery, a pretrial procedure in a lawsuit to obtain evidence. Peer review is used to determine whether accepted standards of care have been met and be a source of information for physicians. In hopes to prevent physician errors, HB 4 received final passage by a vote of 25-13 and has been sent to the governor's desk.

Volunteer Jurors. Senate Bill 87 would allow Kentucky's 54 judicial districts to accept volunteers for jury duty. These volunteer jurors would still be subject to jury selection and voire dire like any other person called for jury duty. After passing a Senate committee this week, SB 87 now goes to the Senate floor for further consideration.

Legislators are eager to receive feedback on the issues confronting our state. To share your thoughts and ideas with state lawmakers, including Bracken County's Rep. John Sims, Jr. and Sen. Wil Schroder, call the General Assembly's toll-free message line at (800) 372-7181.

The Importance of Agriculture Education

When you think of Kentucky, many things come to mind from beautiful horses to endless acres of some of the best farmland anywhere. But for those of us that live here and are members of Kentucky Farm Bureau (KFB), we know that educating our young people is the most important thing we can do. The education of the next generation is of the greatest value, and KFB wholeheartedly believes it can make all the difference in their lives and in the livelihood of the state.

But those of us here at KFB don't just believe in the idea of getting this next generation properly educated; we believe we have to contribute to their success. That's why we invest time and money into agriculture education and college education opportunities.

Last year, the Kentucky Farm Bureau Education Foundation, in partnership with county Farm Bureaus across the state, awarded 431 college scholarships totaling more than half a million dollars to high school seniors. Scholarships are awarded to recipients who display academic excellence, involvement in extracurricular activities, leadership abilities, and are in financial need.

We believe there is no better investment than in the future then to help our young people in their educational endeavors. But we know this investment in education doesn't begin once a student is ready for college; it starts at the primary and secondary levels.

Every year in March, countless county KFB members spend a week at their local elementary, middle and high schools across the Commonwealth to share information about our farms and rural communities with students as a way to strengthen their agriculture knowledge.

"Ag Literacy Week" is one of our favorite times of the year. We love to see the bright faces of our youth as they learn where their food comes from and all about our strong agriculture industry.

Agriculture is one of Kentucky's largest industries and a significant economic generator. It's important that our children are well-versed in it and all of the great qualities and opportunities our state has to offer.

Agriculture literacy is beyond recognizing a fruit or vegetable, but outside of the can or frozen bag, what does it look like "whole"? How does it grow? Does it come from Kentucky? We want our children to know how food gets on their table, from the first seed planted to the infrastructure that got it to their house. And most importantly, we want a healthy generation ready to lead. A generation that knows our food and the important role Kentucky plays in feeding the world.

KFB also offers learning opportunities to teachers through our annual Teacher Workshops. These professional development events have been held for the past 20 years and are designed to help teachers incorporate agriculture into their curriculum. About 400 teachers attend the free workshops every year in various locations throughout the state.

You may have seen that we are currently accepting applications for college scholarships. As post-secondary costs continue to rise, it is challenging for hard-working Kentucky families to send their child to college and we want to help.

I hope you'll take this opportunity to apply if you have a high school senior who could benefit from one of these scholarships. We are proud to help our members fulfill the dream of college, while bettering the overall education environment in Kentucky.

Education is key to a better tomorrow for our youth. At Kentucky Farm Bureau, we are proud to do our part in educating, supporting and providing opportunities for our children to have better futures through a quality education.

Spring is in the Air: Join the Arbor Day Foundation

The Arbor Day Foundation is making it easy for everyone to celebrate the arrival of spring by planting trees.

Join the Arbor Day Foundation in March 2018 and receive 10 free white pine trees or 10 white flowering dogwood trees.

"White pine trees or white flowering dogwoods will add beauty to your home throughout the year," said Matt Harris, chief executive of the Arbor Day Foundation. "Dogwoods are known for their showy spring flowers and red berries that attract songbirds during winter. White pine trees are fast-growing landscape trees that will break heavy winds, making them an ideal addition to any yard."

The free trees are part of the nonprofit Foundation's Trees for America campaign.

With planting instructions included, the trees will be shipped at the right time for planting, between March 1 and May 31. The 6 to 12-inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge.

Arbor Day Foundation members also receive a subscription to Arbor Day, the Foundation's bimonthly publication, and The Tree Book, which contains information about tree planting and care.

To become a member and receive the free trees, send a $10 contribution to TEN FREE WHITE PINE or 10 FREE DOGWOOD TREES, Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by March 31, 2018, or join at arborday.org/march.

"Read Across America" Week held at St. Augustine Preschool

The students in Mrs. Alicia Hay's and Ms. Lacy Schumacher's preschool class at the Saint Augustine Preschool celebrated "Read Across America" Week from February 26- March 2. They used various Dr. Seuss books to become engaged and excited about reading through a variety of crafts, activities, art projects, STEM projects, and edible art goodies.

Each day had a theme focused on a Dr. Seuss book. On Monday, the theme was "1 Fish, 2 Fish, Red Fish, Blue Fish." The students had a read-aloud, identified rhyming words and opposites, painted a fish bowl, and made a snack bag of Swedish Fish to take home to share.

On Tuesday, the students focused on "Fox in Socks" by wearing their craziest socks to school. They watched a read-aloud of the book on their Brightlink projector, designed their own crazy sock, and matched pairs of socks to work on matching.

On Wednesday, they read "Green Eggs and Ham." Each child created a writing piece on a rhyming food they would eat, made a green eggs and ham hat, and "cooked" green eggs and ham with pretzels, marshmallow fluff, and green M&Ms.

On Thursday, everyone came in their pajamas to get comfortable and read "Horton Hears a Who!" They painted Horton paper towel roll crafts, made elephant handprint art, and put together a bag of elephant animal crackers to take home for a school-to-home connection.

On Friday, everyone enjoyed reading the book and watching a cartoon version of "The Cat in the Hat." The children made patterned hats and whisker puppets, along with a Cat in the Hat paper plate art piece. The preschool students will continue their Dr. Seuss theme for the next two school weeks.

If you are looking for an involved and motivated preschool for your child for next school year, contact the school at 606-756-3229 to schedule a tour and see some of the age-appropriate learning taking place during their Dr. Seuss theme.
